2024 HFSA Heart Failure Seminar: Updates in Advance Heart Failure

Course Details

This program features a multidisciplinary panel of HF experts who are presenting a case-based program that is designed to provide the most current information on the management of patients with right ventricular failure; left ventricular assist devices; and emerging strategies for donation after circulatory death.

Target Audience

This activity is intended for cardiologists, interventional cardiologists, primary care physicians, cardiac surgeons, internists, nurse practitioners, physician assistants, nurses, pharmacists, and other health care providers who care for patients with heart failure.

Learning Objectives

1. Describe the current strategies to predict, prevent, diagnose, and manage right ventricular failure
2. Review the current evidence and clinical trial data for the medical management of left ventricular assist devices in patients with advanced heart failure
3. Discuss the different methodologies for donor after circulatory death procurement and preservation
